

LUCKILY

Lyrics and music: Javier López del Carril

How to enter, to see you take off, and not go out?
No one escapes your gestures.
No evil, I don't get used to smiling,
I feel guilty if I lie to myself.

Luckily you were alert,
luckily it was you.

You, audacious, drug-sufficient and sensory,
trying to look strong.
Me, with just awkward temporary madness,
but I know I'm in luck.

Luckily you were alert,
luckily it was you,
sitting among the tables,
awake as the day has left you,
without giving promises,
changing what nobody dared to.
